This course will have 72 class hours, including 40 lecture hours, professor 10 office hours, 10-hour TA discussion sessions, 2-hour review sessions, 10-hour extra classes.

Course Description, Objectives & Hours:

This course is the second of the two-course sequence in basic economic theory. This course focuses primarily on the study of the economic system from the macro economy's perspective. Macroeconomics is the study of topics such as inflation, unemployment, economic growth, interest rate, economic fluctuations and their effects on the economy as a whole.

The course has six main objectives:

1. Analysis and measurement of the size of the economy
  2. Analysis and measurement of prices and inflation and how these are determined in the long run
  3. Measurement of unemployment and explaining how it is determined in the long run
  4. Analysis of the role of financial markets in the economy
  5. Analysis of the open macroeconomy
  6. Analysis of the business cycle and the role of fiscal and monetary policies

Textbook:

Mankiw, N. Gregory. Principles of Macroeconomics 8th edition. ISBN-13: 978-1305971509, ISBN-10: 1305971507

Lectures:

Lectures are designed to clearly explain the concepts covered in the class and how they apply to real world situations. Students are responsible for any announcements made in class during lectures. Outlines of the lecture notes will be made available to students.

Attendance Policy:

Summer classes are intensive and require hard work and diligence. Attending classes is essential for mastering the concepts presented during lectures. If you miss the class due to a legitimate reason (e.g. sickness) you will be required to notify the instructor. Such absence will be considered as excused absence.

Attendance will be recorded and is worth 15% of the student grade.

Homework:

There will be 2 homework assignments, each one is meant to help you prepare (along with the other materials) for the upcoming exam. Late submission of homework will not be accepted. You are required to submit a hard copy of your homework. Homework emailed to me or your TA will not be graded. It's important to write down your name, student id on all homework, otherwise it will not be graded. Instruction on how to submit your homework will be provided.
