Class Hours: This course will have 52 class hours, including 32 lecture hours, professor 8 office hours, 8-hour TA discussion sessions, 4-hour review sessions.

Course Objectives:

This course is an introduction to Modern World History. As a class, we will examine Modern World History as a form of inquiry and understanding. The aim is to develop a familiarity with the complexity of human affairs, of the way in which a variety of forces—economic, cultural, military, political—have interacted with individual aspirations and with the deliberate efforts of individuals to control and shape events. Students should develop a means of interpreting and thinking critically about the events of the Modern World through a historic lens.

This course will utilize both primary and secondary sources in order to better understand the dynamics of change over time, generate a historical argument, apply historical knowledge and analysis to contribute to contemporary social dialogue, and to understand that the ethics and practice of history means recognizing and building on other scholars' work, peer review, and citation.

Format:

For most weeks, you will be required to read secondary sources in preparation for that day's presentation and then read various primary sources in class that will either support the lecture or provide an alternative perspective to specific topics. There are also days that will focus primarily on a discussion. The discussions are based on article-length readings. I will utilize other media and experiential-learning exercises when and where it is appropriate. There will also be weekly field trips to local Korean historical sites, museums, and monuments.

Course Policies:

- 1. Attendance: It is virtually impossible for you to excel in higher education without regard to regular classroom attendance. Attendance will be kept by the TA. If regular attendance becomes a problem, you can expect it to adversely affect your final grade at the end of the course. Moreover, it is expected that you arrive in the classroom on time and prepared for class.
- 2. Respect: It should go without saying that all use of cell phones, computers, or any other electronic devices not directly related to the lecture or assignment for that particular class will not be tolerated. Be respectful by either not bringing them to class or turning them off during the entire class period. The same goes for food. All views and values are to be respected without interruption during the class. Although we may have different opinions, the classroom is a place where we should recognize that these differences are an asset rather than an impediment.
- 3. Academic Integrity: Academic and professional life requires a trust based upon integrity of the written and spoken word. Accordingly, violations of certain standards of ethical behavior will not be tolerated. All work submitted for academic evaluation must be your own. The direct and unattributed use of another's efforts, however, is prohibited as is the use of any work untruthfully submitted as one's own. Ask me if you are unsure of any potential violation to this policy. If you are suspected of academic dishonesty, you will receive a disciplinary penalty of a zero on that particular assignment. I reserve the right to amend this policy based on the extent of the dishonesty.
- 4. Coursework: You will be graded on your attendance, class discussion, quizzes, field trip papers, and midterm examination and final examination. All work is to be completed on time without exception. Quizzes and examinations cannot be made-up unless a valid excuse is presented and documented.

Course Requirements:

| | | |
|----------------------------|------|-----|
| Attendance + Participation | | 100 |
| Discussions | 4x25 | 100 |
| Quizzes | 2x50 | 100 |
| Field Trip Papers | 4x25 | 100 |
| Midterm Examination | | 100 |
| Final Examination | | 200 |

Grade Descriptions:

Attendance and Participation (100 Points): Attendance is kept by the instructor during every class. Missing more than three classes will result in an automatic zero score. Participation is also graded during each class. You should do your best to reply to general questions asked throughout the lecture, after reading primary and secondary documents, and after watching videos. If you use your cell phone, sleep, talk during the lecture, or use any electronic device not associated with the course content for that day, you should expect it to negatively impact your overall participation score.

Discussions (100 Points): There are four discussions at the end of each week based on academic articles listed under the required reading. It is expected that you read the entire article and come to class prepared to discuss it with your classmates. Each discussion is worth 25 points. If you do not participate during the discussion, you will receive a score of zero for that class. In order to gain points, you should attempt to answer, raise a question, counterargue, or add to the dialogue three or four times during the discussion to maximize your score.

Quizzes (100 Points): There are two quizzes administered during the session. Each quiz is worth 50 points. A variety of methods will be used to evaluate your understanding of the course material: multiple choice, matching, map identification, short answer, and essay are possible for each quiz.

Field Trip Papers (100 Points): There will be one field trip to a local historical site each week (usually on Thursdays). After preparation in class and taking the field trip, you will be required to submit a two-page paper by the following Monday based on your experience. The paper should be two pages, 12” Times New Roman font, double-spaced, with 1” margins with a cover page.

Midterm Examination (100 Points): A midterm exam will be administered at the end of week three for a total of 100 points. A review session will address all questions and concerns regarding the exam.

Final Examination (200 Points): A final examination will be administered at the end of the five week session for a total of 200 points. A review session will address all questions and concerns regarding the exam.
